

12.1. Definitions:

Worum geht es?

A fruit whose name is also its colour.	... an orange
Some people read one every day.
You write with it, and it needs regular sharpening.
It is surrounded by the sea.
It allows you to cross a river
What you get on your birthday and at Christmas.
You need them if you've got bad eyesight.
It shows you the route you have to take.
This religious festival is celebrated with eggs.
Another word for twelve.

12.2. Auxiliaries:

Fülle die Lücken.

used to - wouldn't –shouldn't - `ll have to – may – can – must not – must -

It's not a problem, you*shouldn't*..... worry!
 Cars be parked in the driveway.
 Excuse me sir,I interrupt you for a second?
 you show me your passport please, madam?
 I talk to her if I was you. There's no point.
 If we miss the last bus we walk.
 I know David very well, ithave been him who did this.
 I live in Bristol, but that was five years ago.

12.3. DOING THINGS. Wandle das Verb in ein Nomen auf –er um:

Mr Connor owns land. He is a land- owner
John makes glass. He is a glass-.....	He smokes cigarettes He is a cigarette-.....
He drives trucks. He is a truck-.....	They watch birds. They are bird-.....
Ann sells books. She is a book-.....	He makes trouble. He is a trouble-.....
Ron builds ships. He is a ship -.....	You drink coffee. You are a coffee-.....
Belinda owns ships. She is a ship-.....	They play tennis. They are tennis-.....
She designs dresses. She is a dress-.....	We love music. We are music-.....
She teaches at school. She is a school	It opens bottles. It is a bottle-.....
He dances in the ballet. She is a ballet	It dries hair. It is a hair-.....