

A family of noble cats live in Paris: Duchess, the elegant mother cat, and her three kittens: Berlioz, Toulouse, and Marie. Duchess wants to make her kittens aristocrats like Madame. They study painting, piano, and singing.

The butler Edgar thinks he will inherit (erben) when the old woman dies, but then he knows that she has left everything to her cats. He catnaps (Wortspiel mit „kidnappen“) them and takes them far away where they can't come back.

A smart and charming alley cat (Straßenkatze) named Thomas O'Malley becomes their friend and he brings the family home. They meet other animals: two dogs named Lafayette and Napoleon, two silly geese named Abigail and Amelia, and the little mouse Roquefort. And there is Scat Cat and his band of jazz cats. They play "Ev'rybody Wants To Be A Cat."
