

A man catches a snake and puts it into a basket. Then he goes to town. He sits in the street.

He opens his basket. Some people come. They look at the basket.

They look at the man.

The man takes a pipe and begins to play. The snake listens to the music. The snake stands up and dances this way and that way. The people give money to the man. He puts the money in his pocket. The people are happy. The man is happy. Is the snake happy?

Translate:

- Er fängt eine Schlange.
- Er geht in die Stadt.
- Er öffnet den Korb.
- Einige Leute schauen den Korb an.
- Er nimmt eine Flöte.
- Die Schlange hört der Musik zu.
- Der Mann ist glücklich.
- Ist die Schlange glücklich?

He, she, it – das –s muss mit! Nach Zischlaut -es: catches. Nach o -es: does

- They look at the basket. – He ...looks... at the basket.
- I put the money in my pocket. Shethe money in her pocket.
- We catch a cobra. He a cobra.
- They listen to the music. The girl to the music.
- The snakes dance. The cobra
- Do you go to India?he go to India, too?
- We go to Bombay. She alsoto Bombay.
- They give money to the man. The little boymoney to the man.
- When do you begin to play? When..... he begin to play?

Merke: "people" (die Leute) ist Plural, hat aber kein -s.

- Sind die Leute glücklich?
- Einige Leute kommen.