

31.1. BEWARE OF FALSE FRIENDS: Which word goes in the gap: A, B or C?

		A	B	C
0	Can I ... another beer, please?	become	have	drunk	B
1	I think this is a good idea. What's your ... ?	opinion	meaning	thinking
2	What's his job? He is in the insurance	doing	branch	business
3	This timetable is no longer	valid	actual	guilty
4	The streets around the cathedral are very	small	slim	narrow
5	How old does a car have to be before it is ... ?	an oldtimer	a vintage car	an antique
6	Harrods is the world's most famous	department store	warehouse	depository
7	He took up her breakfast on a	tablet	tray	surfboard
8	Switch off your ... before the concert begins.	telly	handy	mobile
9	You don't find out who the ... is till the last page.	murderer	murdering	murder
10	On the second train they didn't ... our tickets once.	control	check	test
11	He looks very handsome in his	burning	tuxedo	smoking
12	Happy birthday! Here's a ... for you.	pack	poison	gift
13	I saw the ... to complain about my salary.	chef	cook	boss
14	The dealer planned a new advertising	campaign	action	undertaking
15	His brother is a ... mechanic.	skill	handy	mobile

31.2. Underline the correct option:

Edinburgh is the capital of Scotland / Canada and the seat of the Scottish Parliament. Its nickname is "Paris of the South" / „Athens of the North". It has a population of half a million / ten millions. The famous castle / railway station stands high over the city. Soldiers in raincoats / kilts take visitors round and tell them fairy tales / the castle's story. From the castle, you see snow mountains around you / over most of the city. Go at one o'clock and you can hear the famous one o'clock gun / nightingale singing. Princes Street is one of the least / most expensive places in Europe. The shops and department stores are on one side of the road. On the other side there are cinemas and gambling halls / public gardens. Some shops sell English skirts / Scottish tartans. In summer downhill races / interesting events take place in the gardens between Princes Street and Edinburgh Castle.

31.3. Put into the past tense:

returned

A Scotsman ~~returns~~ home from America after many years. His three brothers are waiting for him at the station. He can hardly recognise them, as they all have long beards and thick moustaches. He asks them if beards are in fashion. The eldest replies that he's taken his electric razor with him 20 years ago.